Sustainability has become a broad almost vaporous term that can mean many different things to many people. Marketing of sustainability inherits this challenge and often requires extra substance in order to overcome the risk of vagueness. Atlanta Food & Farm PBC (AF2's)-Founder & Lead Principal Kwabena Nkromo will share insights learned on this journey and what's next as the consulting firm expands nationally.