Native Nations and Environmental Justice

The Dakota Access Pipeline Challenge

Wednesday, February 8th, 6:00-8:00pm
Clary Theater, Student Success Center,
190 North Ave. NW, Atlanta GA 30313

Join Dr. Joe Kalt (Co-Director of the Harvard Project on American Indian Economic Development) and Rebecca Stratton (Program Director at the Native Governance Center) for a guest lecture and panel discussion examining the challenges that contemporary Native American tribes and nations face as they endeavor to rebuild their communities, strengthen their cultures, and support their citizens.

This guest lecture will be followed by a facilitated panel discussion focused on the Dakota Access Pipeline project and the questions about political sovereignty, land/water rights, religious freedom, and health/social welfare that it raises.

www.serve-learn-sustain.gatech.edu/environmental-justice-series

Georgia Tech
Center for Serve-Learn-Sustain
Ray C. Anderson Center for Sustainable Business