

SYMPOSIUM

2022 ATLANTA STUDIES

NEW WAYS OF SEEING THE CITY

FRIDAY, MAY 6, 2022

KNOWLES CONFERENCE CENTER, GEORGIA STATE UNIVERSITY COLLEGE OF LAW

The pandemic has kept us at home, shifting our spatial imaginaries and how we experience the city. It has also shined a new light on the roles of essential workers and those not privileged enough to work from home. And as we come out of lockdown, there's an opportunity to see the city (past, present, future) with new eyes. This could be a frame for thinking about novel methodologies to study Atlanta, a forum for exploring the diverse disciplinary perspectives that the Atlanta Studies Symposium brings together, as well as a loose umbrella that could bring together a variety of empirical studies, such as seeing from the perspective of marginalized communities/lost histories/stories from the periphery rather than the center.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER:

- DR. DAN IMMERGLUCK
Professor of Urban Studies, Georgia State University
Author, Red-Hot City: Housing, Race, Class, and Exclusion in Twenty-first Century Atlanta (forthcoming)

CLIFF KUHN MEMORIAL KEYNOTE SPEAKER:

- DR. AJ KIM
Associate Professor of City Planning, San Diego State University
Author, Immigrant Atlanta: Integration, Segregation, and Sprawl in the New South (forthcoming)

- SUBMISSION DEADLINE:
FEBRUARY 11, 2022

To submit an abstract for a panel session, paper, or poster, please fill out the form found here. Priority review of submissions will begin February 11, 2022. Notifications of acceptance will be emailed no later than March 12, 2022. If you have questions about the symposium or your submission, please email atlstudies@gmail.com.